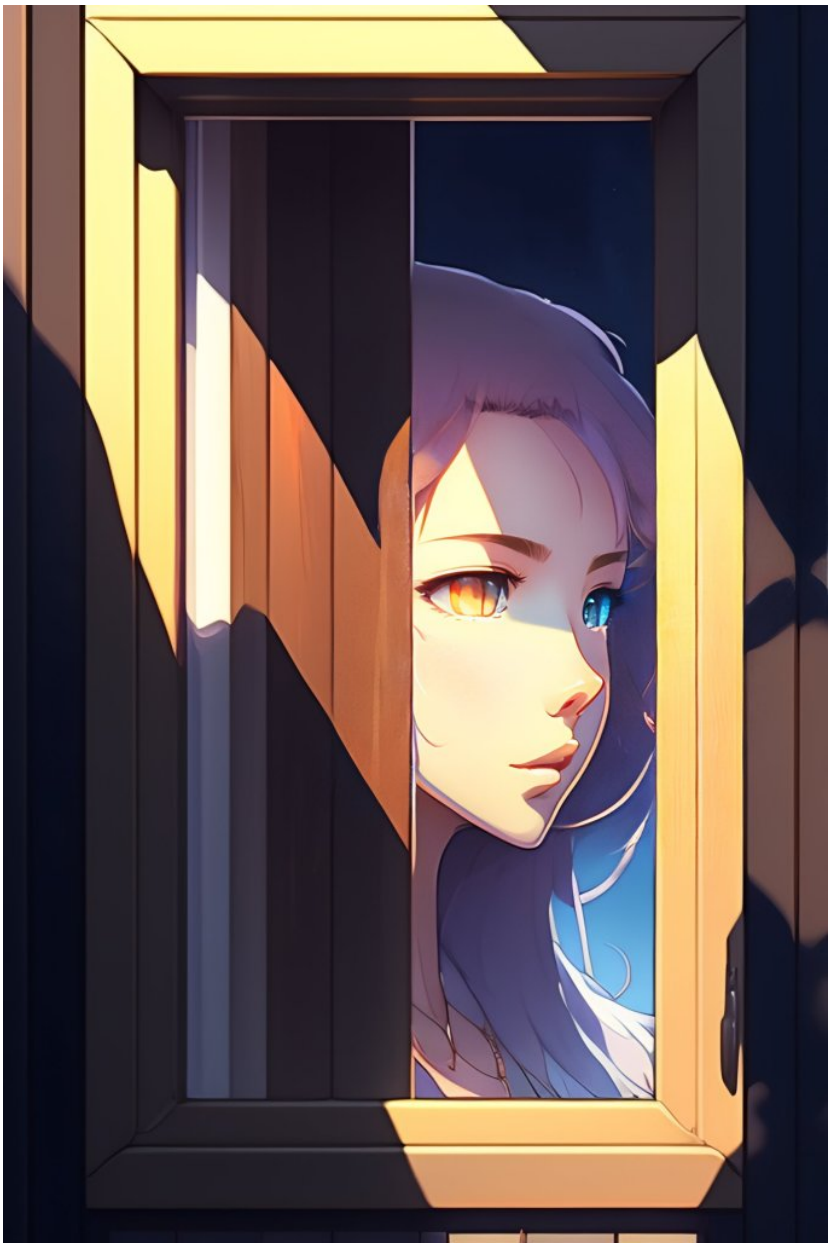
Karthik caught Prici's attention, and I'm not sure why I had kept him a secret. I hadn't even mentioned him to Thambi or Pradeep.



During a game of truth or dare, Kalai asked if I had kept anything from my best friends and if I was willing to reveal it. I decided to share about Karthik. Prici became angry and questioned why I had kept his friendship a secret from them. In reality, he was just a friend I had on Facebook.

Before opening up about him to my friends, I wanted to get to know Karthik better. Prici even asked if I was interested in him, which is why I kept quiet. However, that wasn't the case. I simply wanted to assess if he could fit into our friendship or not, and if not, I would avoid any complications. Although there were reasons behind my need for his friendship, it was important for me to explain them.During a difficult time when I was feeling a lot of pain because of my friends, I prayed for a new friend to come into my life.

And guess how I found him? It was through a guy I met on Facebook.Initially, I had doubts about trusting someone I met online, but I can't pinpoint exactly what convinced me to give it a chance. We started chatting, and the next day I opened up and shared about myself. To my surprise, he was completely normal and didn’t show any sympathy or drama. He simply accepted me for who I am, and that made me feel really good. I saw it as a gift from God, even if he himself wasn’t a believer.
